Welcome the AERO 2230 course. This course is the co-requisite to AERO 2201 which is the Private Pilot Flight Lab – this means you must take AERO 2230 before or during the same semester as you take AERO 2201.

Required materials
Textbook: Jeppesen Private Pilot (Guided Flight Discovery) 2007
Manual Flight Computer (E6B)
Navigation Plotter

The grade for this course will be calculated by taking an average of four tests. The tests are scheduled for:

Test 1 Chapters 2 & 3 on September 16, 2008
Test 2 Chapters 4 & 5 on October 7, 2008
Test 3 Chapters 6, 7 & on November 4, 2008
Test 4 Chapters 9 & 10 during Final Exam week on December 11, 2008 @ 10 am

Tests can only be made up with prior approval and approval is rare. No make-up test is available for Test 4. The entire course grade will be calculated from these tests; no “extra credit” will be used or allowed. The test average will be placed in the following scale to determine the final course letter grade:

89.5 to 100 A,
79.5 to 89.4 B,
69.5 to 79.4 C,
59.5 to 69.4 D,
59.4 and below F.
